Mrs. Huldah Reese, nee Quinn, died January 1st at the home of her niece, Mrs. L. Porter Wells, near Shelbyville, in the seventy-seventh year of her age. She was a woman of charming personality and had many friends and relatives in Fleming and Mason counties. She was born and raised near Wedonia.

Quarterly meeting services will be held at the Methodist Church in Washington Saturday and Sunday, January 6th and 7th, Rev. Gardiner presiding.

Mr. Rufus Emmons, born and raised at Springdale, was married recently at Farmer City, Ill., to Miss Lillie M. Cotton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cotton. The wedding occurred at an informal gathering of friends at the home of the bride's parents, who were shortly to leave Indiana for a permanent home in Kentucky.

THEIR FIRST CASES

There's a New Broom On Tap in the Old Town

County Attorney Slattery has entered upon the duties of his office in a manner that indicates that he means business and will look after the morals of the community as well as otherwise.

Yesterday he arraigned and prosecuted in Squire Pickrell's Court Alice Jackson and Gooch Bennett on the charge of adultery; case continued until Monday.

Charles Cooper and Annie Middleton, same charge; Cooper was fined $25 and the woman was let off with 1 cent and costs.

William Perry and Rachel Warner were likewise guilty, and mended matters by stepping out of the Squire's Court into the County Clerk's office and after securing the necessary documents were married and set up housekeeping according to law.

The above parties were all colored.

From the energetic start Colonel Slattery has made in this special line it is evident he has an iron in the fire for some others and that he is a firm believer in the scriptural proverb—"A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband, but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones."

It was the first attempt of the new Squire in dispensing justice and solving knotty points in law, and taken altogether he did as well as the rest of us would have done under similar circumstances.

The Squire means well and in time will develop into a high-class Justice of the Peace.

THE LEXINGTON wishes him success.

strongest political foes, and loved by those favored with his manful friendship. With the proud, progressive and beautiful metropolis of Mason county William H. Cox is identified in all the relations that arise between representative men and the community they live in. He has served Maysville with distinction in various offices. He serves her now in honorable and useful legislative position. Mason county used to give her other favorite son, the Hon. James N. Kehoe, a Democratic majority of about 1,200, but that enormous Democratic strength in Mason can never be marshaled up against William H. Cox. If it could, he had never been Senator from the Mason-Lewis District. His irresistible personal worth and charm win him at every election a heavy Democratic vote. Not for a unanimous election would Senator Cox sacrifice one iota of Republican faith and principle. Every one recognizes his fidelity to the party; all admire his loyalty to its teachings. Hence his repeated successes at the polls.

The tribute from his fellow legislators is timely and significant. It is expressive of regard profound on the one hand for Mr. Cox personally and politically; it is, on the other, condemnation most severe of the Ernst machine. Senator Cox is one of the very last men that Boss Ernst would like to have so honored. But Boss Ernst's word and wishes no longer pass for current coin in the Republican realm.

The Republican legislative caucus accentuated the rebuke to Ernst by naming W. W. Byerly, anti-machine Republican of Knox county, and Isaac C. Adair of Ohio county, another anti-machine man, for Prison Commissioners. The longer Ernst holds on to his job as State Republican "leader" the more unpopular he becomes. His finish is at hand.

TAKE another look at these figures—$9,548.74 spent last year on Maysville's so-called streets! Let's make the waste an even $10,000 this year.

SINCE Editor WILT went to Frankfort to sit on the lid and make good laws, The Fleming Gazette calls Maysville a "little city." That certainly calls for Lion Coffee and Toy Pistols for two.

Oh, no, dear boy; not a penny of the $9,548.74 which Maysville's mud roads cost last year is to be charged against the recently-built sewers. They are in a separate account, and their cost was $2,888.36.

ACCORDING TO The Times-Star in some parts of Russia the people are having a chance of seeing what a truly peaceful and law-abiding person the average Socialist is when he gets into a position of power or prominence.

The business man who would spend $9,548.74 a year for patching an old roof, when he could have a new one put on for $4,000 a year, would be voted a fool. And yet that's the policy of Maysville in the matter of her so-called streets.

THE threat of Jo. BLACKBURN to devote the rest of his life to fighting the Democratic Machine should be sufficient warning for Republicans not to make darned fools of themselves; that seems impossible when the present rolling-Republicans are out for Federal office.

Look At the Dates

Premiums on Certain Coins Have Increased Wonderfully

Premiums on old coins have advanced from 75 to 100% during the last few years, said an old coin dealer to a reporter for a Washington newspaper. Any number of coins that could have been picked up for a small sum a short time ago now bring sums up to $75 and $100.

This is due to the tremendous revival of interest that has taken place in coin collecting. There are now in this country more than 4,000 coin collectors who systematically buy old coins and are always in search of new specimens.

They make trips to Europe and other countries in quest of desired rarities. Some of them make trips of this character every year for no other purpose than to ransack the shops of dealers in odds and ends on the other side of the ocean in the hope of finding a treasure, which, as a matter of fact, they very often do.

Of course, there are thousands of persons who casually gather old coins indiscriminately, but I don't take such collectors into account. So great altogether is the demand for old coins nowadays that the supply does not begin to meet it.

Most American collectors go in for coins of United States issue. Not much interest is taken here in foreign and in the ancient Greek and Roman coins, although they are the rage abroad.

A good many collectors make a specialty of gathering Colonial coins and the private gold issues of North Carolina, California and Georgia, but the large old copper cent leads them all in point of interest. Still other collectors go in for die varieties and mint marks. That small letter on a coin which shows the place of its mintage makes all the difference in the world to a collector and also in the price.

"C. C." ADDS TO VALUE.

For instance, a twenty-cent piece of 1875 of the Philadelphia Mint is worth just twenty-five cents, and yet a coin of the same denomination of 1877 or 1878, bearing the two tiny letters, "C. C.," for Carson City, will bring between $10 and $15.

The dime of 1894 is another example. The one made in San Francisco, with the letter "S," there are 817 die varieties known at the present time, with other countries to bear from.

And this just refers to coins of one denomination. It can easily be imagined the work ahead of the collector who goes in for the collection of die varieties of coins of all denominations.

The majority of the collectors of gold coins confine themselves to denominations under $5. This by no means limits their field greatly, as there are hundreds of varieties of the private gold issue of the Western States, North Carolina and Georgia, not to mention the varieties of regular United States issue.

Just take the Brauer donblon. This was a gold piece issued in New York City in 1837. On the reverse it bears the motto, "Unum E Pluribus," and an eagle with spread wings; upon its breast a shield, with a bundle of arrows in the right talon and an olive branch in the left, while the head is surmounted by thirteen stars.

This coin was struck from dies which had been made for a cent, which the maker had submitted to the authorities for approval, but it was rejected. The coin is now worth more than $500, and is seldom offered for sale.

Of the California gold issues alone there are several hundred varieties, and some of them command enormous premiums.

EAGLES THAT ARE VALUABLE.

There are only three collectors in this country who make a specialty of accumulating gold pieces of the value of $10 and upward. There are not only the eagle and double eagle of United States issue, but the many $10, $20 and $50 gold pieces of private firms in the West, and the $16 and $40 07 gold slugs.

This branch of numismatics is only for millionaires. All the fifty-dollar gold pieces, of which there were seven varieties, are octagonal in shape except one, and now fetch from $150 to $500; that is, when they are offered for sale, which is not very often.

But there is one gold piece of United States issue which is beyond the reach of all collectors, no matter how wealthy. This coin is above price. It is the first twenty-dollar gold piece minted by this Government in 1843.

The piece was submitted for approval, but before action was taken the new year came, so that the dies had to be destroyed and new ones made for 1850. This coin, the only one of its kind, now rests in the coin cabinet at the Philadelphia Mint.

After all, the real factor in the value of a coin of rare date is its condition. On this depends whether it is worth $5 or $300.

A 1799 copper cent, worn almost smooth from constant circulation and with the date barely discernible, will bring from $5 to $15, while one in better condition will advance in value by leaps and bounds. Two hundred dollars has been paid for one of these homely cents in very good condition.

One of my customers has had a star for with me for the last five years of one of these 1799 cents in unimproved condition. Such a coin must exist. It is hidden away in the bottom of a drawer or reposing in the depths of a box, the owner unaware of its value.

The great premium is held by one of the collectors. Usually a large coin that is rare of their limited.

But there is no should be rare.

The Mint records actually 904,585 were this enormous number, but where they are

OUR UNEQUAL LAW

Strong Reasons For a Change in Kentucky's Taxing System

Judge A. P. Humphrey discussed "Taxation" before the Louisville Bar Association. His views on taxation are not complimentary to the existing laws of Kentucky.

His first objection to the present system is the law that requires all personal property to be assessed whether or not the owner lives in this state, and at the same time assessing personal property out of the state owned by persons living in this state or by corporations whose charters are taken out in this state. He says that in fairness and equity the Legislature could utilize only one horn of this dilemma, and not greedily seize both horns.

His second objection is summed up in his own language that "it is impossible to establish or maintain a satisfactory system of taxation so long as our Constitution requires the ad valorem system to be applied to all classes of property."

Judge Humphrey discussed the recent decision of the Court of Appeals in deciding against the validity of the license tax ordinance in Louisville. After quoting the decision he says:

"If these illustrations are to be taken as the considerate judgment of the Court of Appeals, it is difficult to see how any license ordinance can be drawn.

"Thus, if one man has $10,000, which he does not use in any gainful pursuit, but simply proposes to live upon its income, and another man has $10,000 which he employs in business and diligently turns over four or five times, and a third man employs the same $10,000 in business, but, with less skill or diligence, turns it over two or three times, it is quite impossible to draw a license ordinance based upon the gross income of those who engaged their money in business, and make the return the same from two individuals of the same class, or from the same individual in different years, or from either of the individuals engaged in business with the one who hides his talent in the napkin.

"Again, the Court fails to observe that while the man who simply invests his $10,000 to live upon its income, pays taxes only upon his investment, the bank or trust company pays its 5%, not only upon the amount it receives from the investment of its capital, surplus and undivided profits, but also upon its gains on money deposited with it, less the interest it pays for such deposit; and in the case of a trust company, upon its earnings, acting in the capacity of fiduciary, guardian, executor, administrator or trustee.

peals, in its opinion on the license ordinance of the city of Louisville, has failed to take into consideration the fact that it is impossible to liken the ad valorem system to the license system, and it is impossible to compare the one with the other or to make the one like the other, and I cherish the hope that on further consideration our highest tribunal may be induced to take a less drastic position upon the subject of the Constitutional Amendment than is indicated by the present wording of its opinion.

"The fact is, that when we come to apply our ad valorem system in Kentucky, if we did really enforce its provisions it would constitute a premium upon idleness, and the more diligent a merchant or manufacturer shows himself the heavier the burden which the state would lay upon him.

It seems to me the baldest sort of truism to say that that system of taxation is the fairest which is the most equal. By 'equal' I mean equal upon property, not upon person, because taxation should have no respect for persons whatever.

"A system of taxation which will certainly discover and fairly value all property upon which the same burden is laid has the first element of economic justice. Real estate can be seen, and its value can be estimated with approximate certainty—if not absolutely, at least relatively. Personal property, on the other hand, cannot be seen, and a very large proportion of it is capable of absolute concealment. When, therefore, you come to endeavor to reach this class of property, some other method must be employed. It is believed that there is no method so certain—so relatively so not absolutely equal—as the measuring of taxation on personal property by its gross return.

"The question is not peculiar to this state. I was some years since by a prominent merchant in Cincinnati that bonds were sold on that market on a basis of return which exactly equaled the state, county and city taxes. That is, if the law were in force, the bond buyer would pay the whole return on his investment into the public purse.

"If our Constitution were so amended as to allow a reasonable rate to be levied upon property of this character, the return to the state in money will be substantial, and the demoralizing influence of tax evasion largely eliminated. In other words, the moral gain would be as great as the financial gain.

The same principle is reflected in the rat interest. Take a merchant who employs $10,000 of his own capital in business. If he has established a character for business ability, industry and integrity he will likely be able to borrow at least $50,000 more. On assessment day he will therefore have, either in merchandise or accounts, $150,000. But if he has borrowed $50,000 at the ruling rate of interest, say 6 per cent., and must pay $2.72 taxes, his money is costing him almost 9 per cent. This is a rate of interest which business cannot stand. If, however, this merchant is allowed to measure his contribution to the public purse by the amount of his gross returns, fixed at a fair rate, he will be encouraged not only to use his capital but his credit in the production of the largest gross return."

The Ripley News says Samuel C. Francis of Maysville and Miss Dove Williams of Brown County were married at Georgetown December 23d.

In the big fire at Manchester early Monday morning property valued at nearly $80,000 was consumed, the insurance being about 50% of the loss. The fire started in Gregory's restaurant in Second street, and before it was gotten under control Brown's drugstore, Smith's residence, B. P. Lawwill's grocery, J. P. Dunbar's insurance office, R. A. Masterson's grocery, S. B. Charles's building, Central Union Telephone exchange, Doddridge's bookstore and residence, Hundley's jewelry repair shop, Little's barber shop, Dr. Richard Shelton's office, Foster's meat market, Miss Hill's millinery store, Guy Ellison's saddlery shop, Buster Moore's building, Grierson's saloon and McGraw's blacksmith shop were destroyed.

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take it. It's Family Pills for constipation.

FEARIS.

January, 1906—First day coldest for the winter.

A. S. Cole was at Trinity Tuesday on legal business.

Saturday, December 23d, snow No. 4 fell here after night.

May the Editor and staff enjoy a happy and prosperous New Year.

Thomas Fry, Jr., is home from Manteno, Ill., where he has been farming.

Miss Vessie Davis of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Miss Wardie Kennard of Hartford City, Ind., is visiting here and on Crooked creek.

Miss Maud Thompson and Lula Pickett returned to King's Mills, O., Tuesday after a two week visit here.

Protracted meeting began here January 2d, 7:30 p. m., conducted by the Pastor and assisted by a Revivalist from the city.

That's bad news about Manchester conflagration. The people who got burned out must feel the need of a fire engine and water works.

Mrs. George W. Bevard, who has been very ill and was given up to die by two Doctors, is some better and one Doctor says now she may get well.

All distinguished G. A. R. Comrades are expected to attend the regular meeting at Trinity Hall January 6th, 2 p. m., for public installation of officers and other important business.

Several from here attended the trial of our schoolteacher, Miss George, for whipping one of her pupils and drawing the blood. The verdict was returned in favor of the teacher.

The holidays passed off here with less noise and drinking than we ever saw before. The small boys, with what little fireworks they had, behaved better than usual, and there was very little drinking and only one little fight between
W. H. Sparks and J. W. Fearis. May the day soon come that people will settle their disputes with proper argument instead of resorting to the dog fight. But it takes a club or a gun to settle some phellers and they should get it P.
D. Q. If nothing else will do them.

"I am very sorry to hear of the action of the Supreme Court of the United States in the How-ment, entirely innocent of the crime with which he is charged."

Asked what effect, if any, he thought the decision would have in his own case, he replied:
"None in the world. The questions raised in the two cases are entirely different. The two cases stand wholly upon different footings."

SPRINGDALE.

Misses Rena Mae Coryell and Pearl Bean were burning New Year callers here.

Mr. Louis Hotze was here talking "telephone connection" with our rural population.

Mr. Green Halfhill has sold his crop of tobacco, some 8,000 pounds, to local parties at 6 cents with $18 off.

By the way, a number of our citizens are eager for the 'phone connection but insist that the terms are too high, claiming that citizens of all Central and Southern Kentucky have every accommodation at a cost of not more than $12 per box per year. How is this, Mr. Telephone Man?
